

SES

From Anywhere to Anywhere

SES – The Cellular Surveillance System

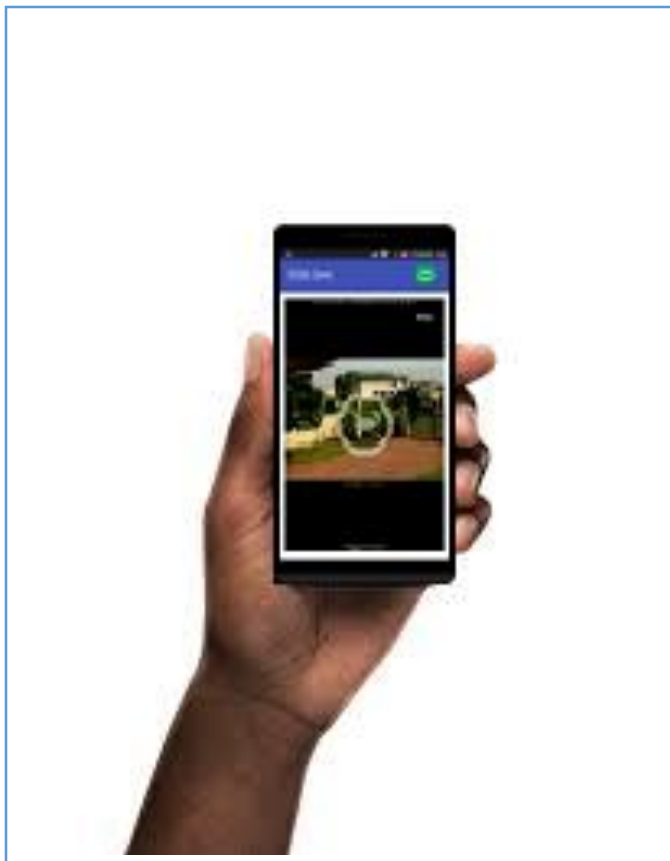

Product Overview

No Wi-Fi no problem! Exempler's SnakeEyeSecurity™ (SES) is a cost effective cellular-based security system. This means you can install it virtually anywhere; in your home, on your farm, even at your remote cabin in the woods. The camera captures video and makes it available on an App on your smartphone, allowing you to always monitor activity whether it is near the camera site or half way around the world. The system only requires a single power source, no messy extra cables, no DVR equipment, no Wi-Fi access point required.

No need to be in the "dark" as to what is happening to your assets. The intelligent motion activated camera is optimized to capture only meaning information. Cloud video storage means that an intruder cannot destroy evidence captured by the camera. The unique CameraShare™ feature allows you to give others access to your cameras. With the SES client App you can share videos using your favorite social media platform.

Product Applications

Monitoring

SES enables you to monitor your assets from anywhere in the world. Whether it is your property or your loved ones, SES provides you with visual information that gives you peace of mind.

Evidence

SES is the ideal evidence system. Each video clip is time stamped and GEO-tagged. Hence you will have all the evidence you need to present to the authorities.

Surveillance

SES provides you with the security you need. The night vision camera makes round the clock surveillance possible. SES uses cellular data which means you can install the camera at locations where Wi-Fi is not available.
